

James and Rosemary Nix Nature Center

Roesling Nakamura Terada Architects, Inc. was selected by the County of Orange to design a 3,500 SF Nature Center located at the entrance to Laguna Coast Wilderness Park. Pedestrian access to the nature center includes an ADA compliant trail linking the parking area to the center. An outdoor amphitheater is set to the north of the Nature Center, allowing for presentations and nature talks, and will be a starting point for tours and nature walks.

OWNER:
County of Orange Harbors, Beaches and Parks

LOCATION:
Laguna Beach, California

COST:
$4,000,000

COMPLETION DATE:
August 2006

ARCHITECTURE TEAM

Principal in Charge:
Ralph J. Roesling, FAIA

Project Manager:
Chikako Terada, Architect

Project Designer:
Rick España

PROJECT PARTICIPANTS

Architect of Record:
Roesling Nakamura Terada Architects

Owner:
County of Orange
Harbors Beaches and Parks
Scott Thomas
(714) 834-6778

Civil Engineer:
Flores Lund Consultants

Structural Engineer:
GSSI Engineers

Mechanical Engineer:
E/C Engineering

Electrical Engineer:
Engineering Partners, Inc.

Landscape Architect:
Spurlock Poirier

Cost Estimator:
Hunter Pacific

